How are the Direct Entry Programs different to a generic EAP course?

- Study at William Blue College of Hospitality Management from day one of your chosen program
- Improve your English level and academic skills while learning language used in the industry
- Achieve your required English level in only 10-15 weeks depending on IELTS entry level
- Progress without completing an IELTS/TOEFL test
- Study with like-minded students who share hospitality as their passion
- Study for 25 hours each week.

Assessment

Assessment of the Direct Entry Program is continuous and includes:

- Weekly and monthly tests
- Written assignments, homework projects, self and peer assessment of group work.

Final assessment is made on the basis of:

- Learners' performance
- Written and oral assignments
- Targeted tests
- Hospitality projects
- Overall participation in class.

You must complete all set tasks and submit original work in order to pass. Your failure or success in passing the course is determined not only by percentage marks but mainly by your overall progress and effort put into the course.

Assessment relates to individual learners' strengths and weaknesses or what each learner can do.

Your achievement and progress are assessed and reported against course goals and criteria and not in comparison to other students.
